Morgan State University Gala celebrates renowned alumnus Earl Graves

During a historical moment of the evening, Earl G. Graves, pioneering entrepreneur and founder of Black Enterprise Magazine, and an alumnus of Morgan State University, stood in awe as his wax figure likeness from the National Great Blacks in Wax Museum was unveiled. Spectators from across the country, who had gathered for the annual Homecoming Gala, witnessed the spectacular event.

The evening was one of friends renewing old acquaintances and enjoying the camaraderie of new ones. Guests acclaimed that the gala was "one of the best ever."
